BETWEEN THE LINES
AUTHOR SERIES

Between the Lines: Barnstorming Ohio with David Giffels
Barnstorming Ohio, a portrait of Ohio on the cusp of the 2020 presidential election and an exploration of why our state has been such a reliable predictor for presidential politics, is author David Giffels sixth book of nonfiction. A former Akron Beacon Journal columnist, his writing has appeared in The New York Times Magazine, Atlantic.com, Parade, The Wall Street Journal, Esquire.com, Grantland.com, The Iowa Review and many other publications. He also wrote for the MTV series Beavis and Butt-Head. Giffels is a professor of English at the University of Akron, where he teaches creative nonfiction in the Northeast Ohio Master of Fine Arts program.
Wednesday, September 9  6:30 PM

Between the Lines: Graphic Novelist Derf Backderf
Join us for an evening with Derf Backderf, whose new book Kent State: Four Dead in Ohio, commemorates the 50th anniversary of the May 4, 1970 shootings at Kent State University. Derf is also the author of the graphic novel My Friend Dahmer, which was recently made into a major motion picture and Trashed, which is inspired by the author's own experiences as a garbageman.
Wednesday, September 16  6:30 PM

Between the Lines: #1 New York Times Bestselling Author Christina Baker Kline
Join us as Christina Baker Kline talks about her new novel The Exiles. A #1 New York Times bestselling author of eight novels, including Orphan Train and A Piece of the World, Christina is published in 40 countries. Her novels have received the New England Prize for Fiction, the Maine Literary Award and a Barnes & Noble Discover Award and have been chosen by hundreds of communities, universities and schools as “One Book, One Read” selections. Her essays, articles and reviews have appeared in the New York Times and the NYT Book Review, The Boston Globe, The San Francisco Chronicle, LitHub, Psychology Today and Salon.

Between the Lines: The Post-Pandemic Liberal Arts College
Join professors Steve Volk of Oberlin College and Beth Benedix of Depauw University as they discuss their manifesto for the reinvention of higher education. Volk and Benedix explore how small, liberal arts colleges have gradually ceded to others the power to create the kinds of schools that their mission statements claim they are. With their “manifesto for reinvention,” the authors, who together have spent half a century teaching in liberal arts colleges, describe what a new, transformative culture would look like. At a time that has seen sweeping changes none would have thought possible, Volk and Benedix call on liberal arts colleges to seize this moment of crisis to construct colleges that, finally, are affordable, equitable, just and transformative.
